Let's connect

The 17th century Turkish traveller, Evliya Celebi, described embroidery as 'the craft of two hands'. Since those early years, generations of stitchers have kept this ancient craft alive and today, in the 21st century the long tradition of embroidery has been enriched with a new name: Lanarte.

In 1934 Guus and Emilie Vergnes' small store, in Leeuwarden in The Netherlands, quickly became synonymous with exclusive needlework kits. For decades Lanarte has held a leading position in the craft sector. In the 1970s and 80s, Guus and Emilie's sons developed their exclusive needlework kits to be among the best in Europe. The sale of the company to the Belgian group, Verachtert, in 2011 brought a new dynamic, creative thrust and further expansion. Today, Lanarte launches 2 new collections per year, each inspired by the latest trends. Nearly a century of excellence and quality is only possible if you are constantly seeking out new challenges; this is what makes Lanarte world class.

Today, Lanarte's exclusivity is not only reflected in the use of the highest quality materials, but also in its unique designs. Lanarte is proud of its collaboration with renowned artists, including the illustrator Marjolein Bastin, together with its own Design Team, which guarantees the success of Lanarte's prestigious collections of highly detailed, timeless and stylish designs combined with striking images.

Working on a Lanarte kit is more than embroidery. It is enveloping yourself in a centuries long tradition of art and craft .

Lanarte is the art of stitching.

The logo for Lanarte features the brand name in a highly decorative, flowing cursive script. The letters are white and set against a dark background. Below the main script, the tagline 'the Art of Stitching' is written in a smaller, clean, sans-serif font.

ergnes' small store, in Leeuwarden, has become a success story with exclusive needlework kits and a leading position in the craft sector. In the 1990s, Lanarte introduced their exclusive needlework kits to the Dutch market. In 2001, the company joined the Belgian group, Veracolor, which led to further expansion. Today, Lanarte's designs are each inspired by the latest trends in fashion and home decor. This is only possible if you are constantly looking for new ideas. This makes Lanarte world class.

Today, Lanarte's exclusivity is not only reflected in the use of its materials, but also in its unique designs. Lanarte is proud of being the illustrator Marjo van der Meulen, who guarantees the success of Lanarte's designs. Lanarte offers endless and stylish designs for your home.

The 17th century Turkish traveller, Eytan Celebi, described embroidery as 'the craft of two hands'. Since those early years, generations of women have kept this ancient craft alive and today, in the 21st century the Lanarte brand has given it a new name: Lanarte.

In 1970, Lanarte's small store, in Leeuwarden, was the only one selling exclusive needlework kits. It was a pioneer in the craft sector. In the 1970s, Lanarte introduced exclusive needlework kits to Belgium. In 1980, Lanarte joined the Belgian group, Verachte, which led to a new dynamic, creative thrust and further expansion. Today, Lanarte is inspired by the latest trends in fashion and home decor. It is as easy as possible if you are constant in your passion for Lanarte world class.

Lanarte is not only reflected in the use of high quality materials, but also in its unique designs. Lanarte is proud to have a team including the illustrator Marjolein van der Meulen, with its own Design Team, which guarantees the success of Lanarte's collections of highly detailed, timeless and stylish designs of traditional and modern images.

Working on a Lanarte kit is more than embroidery. It is enveloped in centuries long tradition of art and craft.

Lanarte is the art of stitching.
